Karl Berger's Stone Workshop Orchestra

Final Two Performances December 5, 2011

For the last eight months Karl Berger's Stone Workshop Orchestra has played every Monday at the Stone and will have its final performances at the Stone on December 5 with two benefit performance sets, at 8:00pm and 10:00pm, featuring guest soloists John Zorn (alto saxophone) and Steven Bernstein (trumpet).

The Orchestra is conducted by Karl Berger in his inimitable style, developed over many years at the legendary Creative Music Studio. One of the trademarks is Ingrid Sertso's uncanny vocalization and poetry.

Karl's "Music Mind" concept introduces a new approach and experience of harmonizing improvised sound for orchestral explorations of original themes or melodies from the inexhaustible bounty of the world music traditions as well as lines written by the likes of Don Cherry or Ornette Coleman.

Performers on Dec. 5 include: John Zorn (alto sax), Steven Bernstein (slide trumpet), Karl Berger (piano), Ingrid Sertso, Mossa Bildner (vocals), Frederika Krier, David Bakridges (violin), Sylvain Leroux, Peter Buettner (flutes), Ken Ya Kawaguchi (Shakuhachi), Jason Candler (alto clarinet), Michael Lytle, bass clarinet, Avram Fefer (soprano sax), Welf Doerr, David Schnug (alto sax), Stephen Gauci, Yuri Kretzmer (tenor sax), Bill Ylitalo (alto flute and baritone sax), Bob Selcoe, Herb Robertson, Brian Groder (trumpet), Steve Swell (trombone), Harvey Valdes, Kenny Wessel (guitar), John Ehlis (Mandolin), Hilliard Greene, David Perrott (bass), John Pietaro (percussions), Lou Grassi (drums), Philip Foster (odds and ends), Mossa Bildner (vocals) and surprise guests.

Karl Berger's Stone Workshop Orchestra will continue starting in the spring season of 2012, at another great NYC location. Stay tuned for details.
www.creativemusicstudio.org

The Stone is located at the corner of Avenue C and E 2nd Street.

Tickets are $20 ($10 for students, seniors, musicians, Stone regulars and CMS supporters).

All proceeds support the CMS Archive Project, the preservation and re-mastering of over 400 historic CMS recordings by some of the finest innovators in music, in collaboration with Columbia University.

. from Advisor Ana Jomolca:

Hello folks,

Happy Thanksgiving to all. After flying solo for most of my career, I finally landed a role with more than two people in the cast. It's a smart little play written by Mac Rogers (Universal Robots) based on the 2003 scandal starring Illinois Governor George Ryan, the death penalty moratorium, the Scott Turow's who capitalized on it and the Cubana Leo (of West Wing) running around cleaning up messes. The 14 person cast is stellar and It's a bittersweet occasion: After 12 years of providing a supportive and affordable venue for hundreds of artists, Manhattan Theater Source will close their doors at 117 MacDougal Street. Have Mercy is our farewell performance. Every night will be followed by a post-show celebration of MTS's honoring of new voices and artists in all fields. Given the circumstances and that we are a cast of 14 and that the theater seats 50, tickets will sell out rather quickly. Tickets are available online or at the box office. Just click on the date you wish to attend.

Hope you can make it.

Much love and light,

Ana Maria

First and foremost, a sincere THANK YOU to everyone who turned out for one of the CD release gigs and/or bought a CD and/or listened to an interview. You're the best -- for real!

Here's a note about all sorts of things, music-related and not, that I hope might be of interest:

Sunday, Dec. 4 Double bill:

♪ 1st set: TranceFormation at 3 pm

♪ 2nd set: Connie Crothers Qt. at about 4:30 pm

TranceFormation is Connie Crothers, Ken Filiano, and me. The music is 100% spontaneously improvised, so you won't be hearing songs from anybody's CDs (not even this group's forthcoming live-in-concert CD, due out in 2012); rather, we'll all find out what the music is as it emerges! $10 donation for both sets.

> When you hear the name Woodstock do you think of Janis Joplin, Jimmy Hendrix and the 69 Festival? Did you ever wonder why Woodstock?

> The answers to these questions, some which may surprise you, are the subject of Cambiz A. Khosravi's latest documentary Woodstock: In Search of Utopia > of which he will preview selected segments this Saturday, December 3rd at the Woodstock Community Center on Rock City Road from 3-5 pm.

> Weaving archival interviews of original Woodstock artists who settled at the Maverick in the 1920's with insights from present day youth, historians and other Woodstock dignitaries,

> Khosravi in effect makes the generations speak to each other as they discuss their reasons for living and creating here and why Woodstock continues to represent > the universal desire for freedom of expression and the need to create a better world.

> This 30 minute preview of Khosravi's forthcoming feature length documentary is intended to launch his fundraising campaign though Kickstarter, Though I'm currently a student at NYU, I was doing photography professionally for a few years before that. I'm a super hard worker and very eager to work on any project put in front of me!

I'm looking to generate some income over my Thanksgiving and Winter breaks (since being a starving college kid isn't exactly my cup of tea!) and would really appreciate it if you have a photography job with which I could be of help.

If you or someone you know needs a holiday portrait taken (I could even meet you in front of the tree at Rockefeller center or take photos of you in a horse drawn carriage in central park!) or needs headshots, birth announcements, engagement photos, an event photographed, or anything else like that, please give me a call!
